Chairman’s Statement

In the past, inventions were important for the economic development of societies. In the 21st century, however, it is not invention but innovation that counts.

In those earlier times, entrepreneurial skills were not needed to get an invention to the market because it was a seller’s economy, where customers were ready to buy anything new. Times have changed, and the rules of the game have changed. Today’s inventors need more than just a clever idea. They need a complex set of skills to move their innovative idea into the market and to ensure it succeeds.

Ours is the age of the entrepreneur (the buzz word of our century). The current, highly competitive economic environment means that scaling up businesses demands special skills of entrepreneurs, who are obliged to secure financing as quickly as possible. Yet finance alone is not sufficient to create global success stories. The entrepreneur needs not simply finance, but the best finance.

What is ‘the best finance’?
The best finance is a miracle that happens when one is able to combine money, know-how, mentorship and networking. This is perhaps better termed smart finance.

Consider the various sources of finance available to entrepreneurs: Beyond basic bootstrapping, there are corporate ventures, angel investors, crowdfunding platforms, accelerators, VCs, banks, public grants, co-investment funds, business plan competitions, technology transfer offices, family offices, private equity investors and stock exchanges. With the notable exception of angel investors, all these sources provide only money, nothing more.

The only true sources of smart finance are angel investors, who are able to influence a country’s economic development by providing more than just money to entrepreneurs and SMEs. They contribute their own know-how, provide mentorship, and share their own networks in contributing to the businesses they invest in. They are thus the main drivers of innovation and the natural leaders of the world’s early-stage investment markets and global startup economy.

In 2018, more than 300,000 angel investors invested more than $26 billion in startups in the US, and more than 310,000 angel investors invested more than $9 billion in Europe. The estimated total global market size of angel investment is over $50 billion every year.

It is rewarding to see that governments around the world have understood the importance of angel investment for boosting their economies. During the Presidential Summit on Entrepreneurship in 2010, President Obama’s response to concerns I expressed about making available public grants for entrepreneurs was promising. In a special meeting with me, he agreed with and supported my position on the importance of angel investors in terms of converting public money to ‘smart money’, that is, cash that is invested by parties who are experienced, well-informed, and well connected.

Your efforts to convert the world economy to a smart economy in cooperation with the World Business Angels Investment Forum will be highly valued.

Yours sincerely,
Baybars Altuntas
Chairman of the Board of Directors,
World Business Angels Investment Forum

We understand that real progress takes time and sustained commitment, and that real success is not measured in terms of immediate results.

Different countries may face different challenges, yet as the world's economies are no longer isolated, their problems are not necessarily country-specific. Solutions therefore need to be sought in the wider, international ecosystem.

Global Co-Founders Committee

A co-founder is an entrepreneur who works with one or more other co-founders to establish and direct the activities of a business startup. This is a dynamic role with responsibilities that may include identifying market opportunities and products that can fill a specific niche, developing business plans and forecasts, and participating in early marketing activities to build brand awareness and excitement for a company or product.

Co-founders are excellent big-picture thinkers who are essential to driving a company's early successes. They also need to be practical and hands-on, as they lead product development and bring new products to the market. Co-founders of startup businesses need the networking, mentorship and know-how of qualified investors from startup to scaleup to exit. And they need access to finance to scaleup their businesses. They need qualified investors who can help them address these challenges.

As an affiliated partner of the G20 Global Partnership for Financial Inclusion (GPFI), the Word Business Angels Investment Forum (WBAF) aims to ease access to finance for businesses from startup to scaleup to exit, with the ultimate goal of generating more jobs and more social justice worldwide.
